CASE NO.

CV2013-003255

COMPLAINT
(Tort Non-Motor Vehicle)

Plaintiffs Andrew Green and Staci Green, by and through counsel, as and for their Complaint against Defendants named herein, allege as follows:

INTRODUCTION
(The Parties)

1
3
4 1. Plaintiffs Andrew Green and Staci Green are, and were at all times material
5 hereto, residents of Weatogue, Connecticut.

6 2. Upon information and belief, Defendant Paul D. Wight, Jr. a/k/a Big
7 Show® (hereinafter referred to as "Big Show") is, and was at all times material hereto, a
8 resident of Miami, Florida.

9 3. Big Show is, and was at all times material hereto, a professional wrestler
10 and wrestling entertainer.

11 4. Upon information and belief, Defendant World Wrestling Entertainment,
12 Inc. (hereinafter referred to as "WWE") is, and was at all times material hereto, a 13 Delaware corporation doing business in the City of Phoenix, Maricopa County, Arizona.

14 5. Upon information and belief, WWE is an entertainment and media
15 company, whose products and services include live and pay-per-view wrestling events at 16 various venues around North America and internationally.

17 6. Plaintiff Andrew Green (hereinafter referred to as "Green") was at all times
18 material hereto employed by WWE as a road producer for digital production. His job was 19 to conduct interviews with WWE wrestlers after wrestling matches/exhibitions. In the 20 course of conducting interviews with wrestlers, Green asked questions of the wrestlers.

21 7. Big Show was at all times material hereto an employee and/or agent of 22 WWE for the purpose of appearing at and participating in live event and pay-per-view
23 wrestling matches and exhibitions.

2 8. Big Show was at all times material hereto acting within the course and
3 scope of his employment and/or agency with WWE, or under the direction and control of 4 WWE under such circumstances as to justify imputing responsibility to WWE for the 5 negligent, reckless, and/or intentional acts complained of herein.

6 9. WWE is legally responsible, by respondeat superior or otherwise, for the 7 acts and omissions of its employees and/or agents, including Big Show, as set forth
8 herein.

9 10. Upon information and belief, Defendants John and Jane Does, XYZ
10 Corporations, and Black and White Partnerships (hereafter "fictitious defendants") may 11 be in some way responsible for the acts complained of herein. Plaintiffs do not presently
12 know their true identities. Plaintiffs will seek leave of this Court to amend this Complaint
13 to state the true names, capacities and relationships when it becomes known.

14 11. Upon belief, all fictitious defendants were at all times material hereto
15 organized and existing under the laws of Arizona and doing business in the State of 16 Arizona and/or were foreign corporations, businesses, etc., qualified to do business
17 within the State of Arizona, and actually doing business therein.

19 (Jurisdiction)

20 12. The Superior Court in and for the County of Maricopa has jurisdiction over 21 the subject matter of this action, and has personal jurisdiction over all parties listed 22 above. The amount in controversy exceeds the minimum jurisdictional limits of the 23 Court.

(Venue)

13. Venue is proper in Maricopa County because the acts and omissions that give rise to Plaintiffs' cause of action occurred in Maricopa County, Arizona.

(General Allegations)

14. Big Show's employment by WWE required him to act in a violent, erratic, and threatening manner both inside and outside of the wrestling ring relative to his appearances and participation in wrestling matches and exhibitions.

15. WWE encouraged its wrestlers, including Big Show, to act in a violent and threatening manner both inside and outside of the wrestling ring relative to their appearances and participation in wrestling matches and exhibitions.

16. WWE encouraged its wrestlers, including Big Show, to engage in violent and erratic behavior as part of their participation in staged wrestling events as a means of entertainment.

17. WWE encouraged its wrestlers, including Big Show, to become emotional during videotaped interviews after wrestling matches and exhibitions.

18. WWE routinely publicized the violent and erratic behavior of its wrestlers, including Big Show, both on the WWE website and elsewhere for the commercial benefit of WWE and profit for WWE.

19. WWE knew or should have known of Big Show's propensity to engage in violence and violent confrontations outside of the wrestling arena.

20. Upon information and belief, prior to the events alleged in this Complaint, WWE had suspended or terminated Big Show's employment because of his behavior,

2 including his engagement in violent and/or unlawful and/or improper activities outside of 3 the wrestling venue.

4 21. Upon information and belief, WWE had fined Big Show, or withheld
5 compensation from Big Show, because of his behavior, including his engagement in 6 violent and/or unlawful and/or improper activities outside of the wrestling venue.

7 22. WWE knew or should have known that Big Show posed an undue risk of 8 harm to others, including Green.

9 23. WWE knew or should have known that participation in staged wrestling
10 events was likely to cause Big Show to become emotionally unstable and volatile.

11 24. WWE knew or should have known that after his participation in a staged
12 wrestling event, Big Show was likely to be emotionally unstable and volatile.

13 25. Upon information and belief, WWE instructs its wrestlers who are 14 employees or agents of WWE to participate in and cooperate with regard to post
15 match/exhibition videotaped interviews, including those conducted for digital media.

16 26. WWE directed Green to interview wrestlers at the conclusion of their 17 WWE sponsored matches and exhibitions as part of his job responsibilities.

18 27. Green's interviews with WWE's wrestlers were recorded on videotape and 19 regularly used by WWE on its website, on YouTube, and elsewhere for marketing and 20 other purposes.

21 28. Prior to wrestling matches and exhibitions, WWE personnel gather in 22 production meetings where they discuss the planned events, and prepare a schedule that 23

1
2 includes designated interviews with the participating wrestlers by WWE's digital media
3 crew, including Green.

4 29. On or about Sunday, January 27, 2013, WWE staged a pay-per-view
5 "Royal Rumble" event at the U.S. Airways Arena in Phoenix, Arizona (hereinafter
6 referred to as the "Phoenix Rumble").

7 30. On the day of the Phoenix Rumble, employees of WWE participated in a
8 production meeting where they determined that Big Show would be interviewed on 9 videotape for the WWE internet site at the conclusion of his match (hereinafter referred 10 to as the "Phoenix Production Meeting").

11 31. WWE employees present at the Phoenix Production Meeting included 12 WWE's Chairman and Chief Operating Officer, Vince McMahon (hereinafter referred to 13 as "McMahon") and Brian Pellegatto (hereinafter referred to as "Pellegatto"), one of the 14 WWE Road Producers.
15

16 32. Green did not participate in the Phoenix Production Meeting.

17 33. After the Phoenix Production Meeting concluded, Pellegatto directed Green 18 to approach Big Show for an interview immediately following his Match.

19 34. Green had previously interviewed Big Show after an August, 2012 WWE
20 "Summer Slam" event, at which time Big Show engaged in a pre-planned rant in 21 response to Green's questioning.

22 35. WWE took no action or precautions at the Phoenix Rumble to protect 23 Green or to prevent Big Show from causing harm to Green.
24

2 36. WWE wrestling events are staged and the outcome of matches is 3 predetermined by WWE such that the wrestlers know, in advance, who the winner will 4 be.

5 37. The Phoenix Rumble featured, among other things, a wrestling match
6 (hereinafter referred to as the "Match") between Big Show and Alberto Rodriguez a/k/a
7 Alberto Del Rio (hereinafter referred to as "Del Rio"), which Del Rio won.

8 38. About five minutes after the Match concluded, Big Show emerged from a
9 staging area referred to by WWE as "Gorilla."

10 39. Green asked Big Show to participate in the videotaped interview as planned
11 at the Phoenix Production Meeting.

12 40. Big Show refused to participate cursing at Green and declaring, with 13 profanities, that he would not do any interview.

14 41. Green advised Big Show that Eric Pankowski, a senior vice-president of 15 WWE, (hereinafter referred to as "Pankowski") wanted Big Show to participate in the 16 interview.

17 42. In response, Big Show stated with the use of profanely indecent language
18 that if Green wanted an interview then he would give him one, and to turn on the camera.

19 43. Big Show went toward Green enraged, shouting obscenities, and waving
20 his fist in Green's face. Big Show then grabbed Green by the collar and throat, striking
21 Green in the face and backing him up against a trunk while declaring "You son of a bitch
22 ... Are you having fun right now ... Don't ever come up to me again ... I don't give a shit
23 who you are" (hereinafter referred to as the "Attack").

2 44. The Attack was captured on videotape by the camera operator, Dustin
3 Wallace (hereinafter referred to as "Wallace").

4 45. Upon information and belief, Big Show was not feigning his emotional
5 outburst at the time of the Attack.

6 46. Upon information and belief, the Attack was observed by other WWE
7 employees, including makeup personnel.

8 47. Shortly after the Attack, Big Show returned in a much subdued state and 9 told Green to redo the "interview." Big Show told Green to ask him to comment on the 10 Match, and he said that he would respond by just walking away.

11 48. Green, fearing any further confrontation with Big Show, complied with Big 12 Show's request. Wallace filmed Big Show walking away after being asked to comment
13 on the Match (hereinafter referred to as the "second interview").

14 49. Shortly thereafter, Wallace located Pankowski and brought him to view the 15 two videotapes that had just been made of Green and Big Show. Pankowski viewed both 16 videotapes.

17 50. Pankowski stated that the videotape of the Attack could not be used
18 because of Big Show's repeated use of profanely indecent language.

19 51. Pankowski told Wallace to discard the second interview which he described 20 as useless.

21 52. A second WWE official, Paul Michael Levesque, a/k/a Hunter Hearst 22 Helmsley, a/k/a "Triple H," (hereinafter referred to as "Triple H") was summoned to 23 view the videotape of the Attack.

1
2           53. Upon information and belief, Triple H was, at all relevant times, WWE's
3 Executive Vice-President of Talent and Live Events.

4           54. After viewing the videotape of the Attack, Triple H stated that it could not
5 be used because of Big Show's use of profanity.

6           55. Triple H insisted that Green re-do the "interview."

7           56. Although he was terrified of Big Show, Green felt compelled to do another
8 interview (hereinafter referred to as the "third interview").

9           57. Triple H asked Big Show to muster the same emotional level for the third
10 interview as he had with the original shoot, that being the Attack. In response, Big Show
11 said that he did not think he would be able to do that because his emotions in the original 12 shoot had been real.

13           58. Prior to the third interview, Big Show told Green not to worry because this 14 time he would not strike him.

15           59. Green conducted Big Show's third interview.

16           60. Pankowski viewed the videotape of the third interview and decided it
17 lacked the emotional impact of the original shoot.

18           61. Pankowski decided to use the original shoot of the Attack with the 19 profanity omitted.

20           62. WWE posted the Attack on its website on Sunday, January 27, 2013.

21           63. At the time WWE caused the Attack to be posted on its website, WWE
22 knew or should have known that the Attack had not been staged.

64. At the time WWE caused the Attack to be posted on its website, WWE knew or should have known that the Attack took place without Green's prior knowledge or consent.

65. At the time WWE caused the Attack to be posted on its website, WWE knew or should have known that Green had suffered physical and mental injuries as a direct and proximate result of the Attack.

66. While it continued to maintain the Attack on its website, WWE knew or should have known that the Attack had not been staged.

67. While it continued to maintain the Attack on its website, WWE knew or should have known that the Attack took place without Green's prior knowledge or consent.

68. While it continued to maintain the Attack on its website, WWE knew or should have known that Green had suffered physical and/or psychological, emotional and/or mental injuries as a direct and proximate result of the Attack.

69. WWE did not cause the Attack to be removed from the internet until, at the soonest, Tuesday, January 29, 2013.

70. The Attack received in excess of one hundred thousand page views while it was posted on the WWE website.

71. WWE's purpose for having the Attack posted on the internet was for the commercial benefit of WWE and profit for WWE.

2 72. WWE intentionally posted and maintained the video on the WWE website
3 even though WWE knew or should have known that it would cause Green to be 4 humiliated and suffer other injuries.

5 73. The next day, January 28, 2013, Green was at the Las Vegas venue for that
6 evening's WWE event, and advised Triple H, Pankowski, and Mark Carrano (of WWE's
7 Talent Relations Department) that he did not want to work with Big Show and wanted
8 WWE to keep Big Show away from him.

9 74. On January 28, 2013, Triple H verbally apologized to Green for the Attack.

10 75. WWE personnel told Green that Big Show wanted to apologize for the 11 Attack.
12

13 76. Green informed WWE that he did not wish to have any further contact with 14 Big Show.

15 77. Green informed WWE that he did not want to be anywhere near Big Show.

16 78. WWE knew or should have known that Big Show caused Green physical 17 and mental harm.

18 79. By its actions, WWE intentionally created a dangerous condition that made
19 it more likely for Green's injuries to occur.

20 80. At the time of the Attack, Big Show intended to assault, batter and injure
21 Green.
22

23 81. At the time of the Attack, Big Show was an employee and/or agent of 24 WWE.

82. Big Show intended for Green to suffer injuries as a result of the Attack.

1
2 83. After the Attack, WWE knew or should have known that Green remained
3 frightened of Big Show and of any further contact with Big Show.

4 84. After the Attack, WWE did not take any appropriate or necessary action to 5 prevent Big Show from attempting to contact Green or to protect Green against further 6 contact with Big Show.

7 85. Over the two days following the Attack, Big Show repeatedly sought out
8 Green, with the knowledge of WWE personnel.

9 86. Over the two days following the Attack, Big Show repeatedly attempted to 10 confront Green, with the knowledge of WWE personnel.

11 87. Over the two days following the Attack, Big Show continued to intimidate
12 Green, with the knowledge of WWE personnel.

13 88. On January 29, 2013, Green advised his direct supervisor, Rob Bernstein,
14 that he was uncomfortable working around Big Show and the other wrestlers, nervous,
15 and had "a ton of anxiety" as a result of the Attack and Big Show's subsequent conduct,
16 and he could no longer remain at the wrestling venue.

17 89. On January 29, 2013, Stephanie McMahon, WWE's Executive Vice 18 President-Creative, contacted Green. Green advised her that he was afraid to work and 19 scared that he would be confronted by Big Show or another wrestler.

20 90. Bernstein offered Green an "800" telephone number to call for assistance.

21 91. Green was unable to continue working on January 29, 2013, because of his
22 mental condition resulting from the Attack, Big Show's subsequent conduct, and WWE's 23 failure to take appropriate and necessary action related to the foregoing.
